FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 31

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY JULY 6, 1934

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

Water, Water, My Kingdom for Water!
COLUMBUS. — Notwithstanding recent rains have greatly enhanced crop prospects, a general shortage of water exists in the United States and abroad to the extent that it has become a matter of grave concern. It is therefore of interest to Ohio people that one small section of this state may become the laboratory where the problem of moisture deficiency will be solved in whole or part. A fair start has been made in the Muskingum valley towards materializing a vast water conservation project by joint federal and state action. But impounding of water in numerous dams is not alone sufficient. Washing of soil is causing millions of dollars of loss to farmers in hill sections. Salt Creek valley, comprising 100,000 acres east of Zanesville in the Muskingum river watershed, has been selected by the Soil Erosion Service of the federal government as one section in the United States to experiment in developing soil conservation by strip cropping, longer rotations, improvement in pastures and woodlots, and terracing. These taken together would retard the flow of water to lower levels and protect the soil. It has been calculated that an average of ten tons of soil is lost annually from every acre in the Muskingum valley by erosion, equal to a yearly loss of $1,000,000 according to David C. Warner, executive secretary of the state water conservation board, who is co-operating with the federal service. Mr. Warner is looking forward to even greater things in Salt Creek valley, however, than conserving dams and prevention of soil erosion.

The first year under the state cosmetology law was completed June 30. Beauty shop proprietors and operators were notified by the state cosmetology board that all who had not obtained their first year's license by July 1 will be required to pass the state examination before they will be issued licenses. To be able to take these examinations, the applicant must have a credit of at least 750 hours from a recognized school of cosmetology. This is also true of out-of-state operators who wish to work in Ohio, since reciprocity has not been established with other states under a cosmetology law.

Population equal to that of a good-sized city inhabits Ohio's 22 state institutions, according to the last monthly report of the Department of Public Welfare. Inmates in all institutions number 35,764, one third of these being women and girls. The eight state hospitals for insane contain 17,277, a little over one half of the total. The Ohio Penitentiary has the largest population, 4,398, including 461 at honor camps. The Ohio State Reformatory also has 3,275 male inmates.

While school activities in Ohio ended generally in June or earlier, this has not been true in rural high schools of the state where vocational agriculture is taught. With such students and teachers this is an all-year activity, at least from a practical standpoint. These pupils must raise crops and stock during the summer season as a part of their course, and their teachers must direct this work. The state is divided into eleven districts containing 73 counties, in which 195 teachers have charge of 204 schools. The teachers are allowed 30 days vacation which they scatter over the year. The counties without vocational agricultural instruction are Champaign, Cuyahoga, Columbiana, Hamilton, Jackson, Jefferson, Lucas, Madison, Mahoning, Scioto, Summit, Trumbull, Tuscarawas, Union and Vinton.

With the smoothness of clock work the general assembly adopted seven emergency building and loans acts and three special school aid measures in two days last week besides appropriating $125,000 for the state industrial commission. The school legislation permits school districts to borrow money in anticipation of tax collection and to borrow federal money to pay indebtedness. It also included amendment of the budget law to conform with the ten-mill limitation on real estate. The building and loan acts provide means whereby associations may obtain federal funds and insurance and other relief, and strengthen state control of such institutions. The senate also confirmed the appointments of Lockwood Thompson and George O'Brien to the board of liquor control.

COURT NEWS

FOUR ASK DIVORCE
Asserting that her husband, now confined in the Mansfield state reformatory never provided her with a home, and that since their marriage October 28, 1930, they have lived with her father, Inez Hamilton has brought suit against Virgil R. Hamilton. She asks to be decreed custody of two minor children.

Charging failure to contribute to her support, Alice Dalhamer has filed suit against Samuel Dalhamer, to whom she was married June 9, 1927. The wife requests custody of a minor child.

Naomi E. Bethards, charging her husband, Lawrence Bethards, with willful absence from home for more than three years, asks restoration to her maiden name of Meredith. They were married June 1, 1929 at Newport, Ky.

Fred Borden, plaintiff in a suit against Catherine Borden, charges gross neglect of duty and cruelty, and asks for custody of three minor children.

FORECLOSURE ACTIONS
Four mortgage foreclosure actions have been filed in Common Pleas Court, three by the Peoples Building and Savings Co., and one by the Home Building and Savings Co., requesting judgments aggregating $20,508.10. The suits follow:
Home Building and Savings Co. vs. John P. Ramsey and others, $1,460.75; Peoples Building and Savings Co. vs. Walter and Alice D. Koogler, $3,093.10; against George W. and Emma Wymer, $15,592.50; against Alfred J. and Carrie Sayles, $361.84.

CITATION ISSUED
In the case of Mary E. Tippy against Perry E. Tippy, in Common Pleas Court, the defendant has been cited to appear in court at 9 a. m. July 3 to show cause why he has not complied with a former court order directing the payment of $4 weekly to the plaintiff.

SECOND OFFENDER FINED
"I thank you, judge," was the comment made by Clarence Murrell, of Bowersville, charged with operating an auto while intoxicated, second offense, after being assessed a fine of $100 and costs and sentenced to sixty days in jail in Common Pleas Court by Judge R. L. Gowdy, Monday. Murrell's driving rights were also revoked for a two-year period.

$30,000 DAMAGE SUIT
The Dayton Power and Light Co., was named defendant in a suit for $30,000 damages filed Saturday in Common Pleas Court, and based on the death of Harold E. Dorff, 10, pupil at the O. S. and S. O. Home, who died July 11, 1933 from injuries and burns suffered when he climbed a company steel tower and came in contact with a high tension line.

Ralph A. Westerfield, of Hamilton County, administrator of the estate, filed the suit which charges the light company with negligence. The child, a pupil from Cincinnati, fell 35 feet to the ground after touching the high voltage wire. He suffered a fractured spine and second degree burns over the body and died five hours after the accident in a Xenia hospital. The tower which the boy climbed was one of five stationed in a field near the institution's grounds. The petition charges that children of the institution were accustomed to playing in that vicinity and that the high tension towers constituted a hidden menace to children of tender age. Claim is also set forth that although three of the towers displayed danger signs, the one which the boy climbed bore no warning sign, but was completely exposed and unprotected. Attorney C. L. Darlington and A. C. Gallagher filed the suit on behalf of the pupil's estate.

Summer Vacation For Rural Women

Women from Greene, Madison, Clark, Fayette and Clinton counties are invited to join with the Extension departments in a summer vacation period arranged for the interest of rural women.

Rest and recreation is the keynote of the program to be conducted through a three day camping at the 4-H Club Camp Site near Clifton on August 8-9-10. Campers are not asked to plan or prepare meals, but are given an opportunity to read, do handicraft, or study some of the material element present at this camp site. This vacation offers an opportunity for complete relaxation from the duties that usually confront rural women.

It is necessary to have an enrollment of thirty women before July 28 in order to promote this feature of the Extension program. Interested women may enroll with Miss Ruth Radford, Home Demonstration Agent before July 28.

Xenia Home Barn Is Completed

Construction of the new barn at the O. S. and S. O. Home, one of the largest in the country, is practically completed.

The project was started Dec. 4, under the CWA program and continued under FERA auspices when the CWA went out of existence. It represents an expenditure of $45,000. Final exterior finishing touches, grading and installation of feeding equipment is all that remains before the barn is occupied. The structure is U-shaped, 176 feet long, 146 feet wide and 38 feet high. It has a mow capacity of 400 tons, a grain capacity of 10,000 bushels, stalls for 78 cows, 60 calves and 10 horses, besides eight isolation stalls and six maternity stalls.

DYER RESIGNS FARM BUREAU POST BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

C. A. Dyer, Columbus, legislative representative of the Ohio Farm Bureau for a number of years, has resigned the post because of continued ill health, according to officials of the state farm organization who accepted his resignation in bi-monthly meeting of the board of trustees, last Wednesday, in the capital city.

Mr. Dyer has long been a prominent figure in the state legislative halls where he has officially represented both the Ohio Farm Bureau and the Ohio State Grange. He has suffered failing health for several months and sought withdrawal from active service through resignation from his joint position as legislative representative of both state farm organizations.

PROGRESS ON STREET WORK SLOWED UP BY RAINS

Heavy rains several days ago held up the improvement on Xenia avenue and Columbus pike. Thursday workmen started to place the second course of stone on Xenia avenue. The excavation has been completed on the Columbus pike end. To keep the pike open for traffic a special detour road will be built alongside the Orr field to be used until the job is completed.

Chinch Bugs Hit Corn Fields In This Township

Reports have reached us that chinch bugs have made their appearance in several crops of corn in this township. The pest is found elsewhere in the county, particularly in Bath Twp.

A tank of creosote oil has been received in Xenia by the Greene County Farm Bureau, contributed by the government, to be used in controlling the bugs. The oil is poured into a small trench around the field or that portion that yet affected with the pest. It is said the bugs will not cross the oil. Crops on the George Hamman and Ed. Dean farms were among the first reported as being hit by the bugs. The bugs can destroy a crop in a few days as they multiply by the million.

Two Injured In Accident

One man is in the county jail and two others, occupants of his car, are recovering from injuries as the result of an automobile accident on the Middle Jeffersonville pike, one and one-half miles east of Jamestown, Sunday night. All are colored.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge F. L. Johnson, Xenia, on a charge of operating an auto while intoxicated, William Parsons, 32, colored, of Urbancaster, O., six miles south of Columbus, entered a not guilty plea and was remanded to jail in default of $500 bond. His preliminary hearing was assigned for Tuesday morning. Madie Johnson, one of the two injured passengers, is in McClellan Hospital, Xenia, with a fractured left hip and a minor injury to the left wrist. C. Johnson received a cut on the right hip while Lucy Dickinson, Nat Gibson and the driver escaped injury. Parsons' auto is said to have sideswiped a machine owned by James Bryant, east of Jamestown, and driven by his son.

HEARING ASSIGNED

Hearing on an application of the state banking department to pay a second dividend of 10 per cent to general claimants of the defunct Exchange Bank at Cedarville has been assigned for 9 a. m. July 7 by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy. The dividend, if approved, will be payable on and after July 9.

F. O. HARBISON HOLDS WHEAT YIELD BANNER

When it comes to matching the record of a wheat yield in Greene county, someone must reach 44 bushels an acre, this being the record set by F. O. Harbison on his 11 acre crop.

Mr. Harbison is said to have had his ground in the very best condition last fall, it being disced and harrowed nine times. In addition to the usual amount of fertilizer he also used 4300 pounds of pulverized limestone. He used six and one half pecks of seed per acre. The wheat was of excellent quality and it is said not a weed was found in the crop. Mr. Harbison has demonstrated that it is not always the acreage that will give you a large wheat yield but the condition of the seed bed.

Catterlin May Start Prison Term Soon

According to Prosecutor Marcus McCallister it is possible that McLain Catterlin, Brazil, Ind., promoter, will start his five-year prison term this week, Friday or Saturday. The mandate from the U. S. Supreme Court, which denied a new trial, will be returned to the Ohio Supreme Court and then to Common Pleas Court in this county, where he was found guilty of violation of the Ohio Securities Act. Catterlin sold certificates in what was supposed to have been "ancient estates," in which the Harper heirs and Mercer heirs were said to have an interest in valuable real estate in New York City. Several hundred Greene county people were caught in the game.

Hanes Road Now Completed

With work completed on the Hanes road, a secondary or feeder road improved as a national recovery secondary project, the road has been turned over to Greene County for future maintenance, it was announced Monday by Highway Director O. W. Merrell.

Cost of improvement was $5,000, of which $4,000 was paid directly to local labor, while a sizeable portion of the balance which was expended for materials, went to labor used in their manufacture. The unimproved section of the Hanes road was .6 miles in length. This road originally ended at junction with the Lantz road, about .6 miles north of the Dayton-Xenia pike. The improvement covered the extension from Lantz road to the highway.

SENATOR BORAH SAYS NRA IS MONOPOLY PLAN

Senator William Borah, Idaho, broke through the mass of red tape regulations and took the "air" Wednesday in an address to the people of this country serving warning of bureaucracy now being enthroned in Washington.

Borah reminded the Democratic leaders of their party platform attacking monopoly but one of the first things the present administration did was to suspend the anti-trust laws and now monopoly was more ruthless in crushing small business than ever before.

He held the AAA program would ruin the farmers of this nation if continued and that farm conditions were worse today than a year ago. He was critical of the crop and live stock reduction plan and held that if the government could force a farmer to reduce his cotton acreage it could also deny the freedom of the press and free speech.

Borah combined the issue of monopolies with the division of wealth, contending combinations of business had contributed to the condition under which four percent of the people own 80 percent of the nation's wealth.

"To me," he added, "this is the most vital problem before the American people today."

Borah, attacking "bureaucracy," said "it is under a constitutional government alone, a government of law and order, that the rights and liberties of the average man and woman are, or can be, preserved and enjoyed."

Recalling the recent controversy over freedom of the press, in which he said "something of the old American spirit blazed forth," Borah said: "During this discussion it was said it would be unspeakable for the government to say there are enough newspapers and no more must be started."

"To me it is no more unthinkable than to say there are enough stores and no more must be started."

"Of all forms of government which has ever been permitted to torture the human family, the most burdensome, the most expensive, the most demoralizing, the most devastating, to human happiness and the most destructive to human values is a bureaucracy. It has destroyed every civilization upon which it has fastened its lecherous grip."

Myers Y. Cooper Speaks At Xenia

Shawnee Park, Xenia was the meeting place for hundreds of Xenia and Greene County residents, who enjoyed a diversified afternoon and evening program of Fourth of July entertainment arranged in connection with a civic "city-at-home" Fourth of July celebration, the most elaborate of its kind ever held in the city.

Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, former Ohio governor, was an afternoon visitor and delivered a patriotic address in the park pavilion at 3 o'clock.

Afternoon features included a progressive auction and contract bridge tournament and an elimination horseshoe pitching tourney, with cash prizes being awarded. An exhibition softball game was an attraction at Cox Field, near the park. Families who spent the day in the park, enjoyed supper, cafeteria style, served by women of the county.

Commencing the evening's program, an all-county boys' band, recruited under the direction of H. E. Seall, bandmaster of the Cadet Band at the O. S. and S. O. Home, played a concert at 7 o'clock. At 9 o'clock a fireworks display was held, and during the remainder of the evening, dancing was enjoyed in the park auditorium.

SOCIETY HAS NEW TOPIC; POLITICIANS STILL WONDER

For weeks the story has been going the rounds in this county, Columbus and in Washington, D. C., that Senator S. D. Fess was to marry Grace Coolidge, widow of the former president. Another story was that Mrs. Coolidge had visited in Yellow Springs just recently. Those on the inside say there is no foundation for the story and the Senator has made public denial.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES HIT HARD

If you carry life insurance on yourself or any member of your family, you should be interested in a bill President Roosevelt signed Saturday, providing for a six year moratorium on all farm loans. This means that the millions of dollars of policy holders now in the hands of insurance companies for your protection, as well as investment, will be frozen.

It is reported every insurance company, financial institution and thousands of individuals holding insurance policies protested to the President, who signed a bill that abrogates a perfectly legal contract, and probably will cause a loss in income to all life insurance companies. Other insurance companies have for a hundred years invested in what was always regarded the safest investment in the world—real estate loans. Today they are nothing more than the Kaiser's treasury, a scrap of paper. The Communist regime in Washington is out to strip the last dollar of savings for the benefit of those who may have been unfortunate in investment, or more likely unwise in their reckless spending spree, rather than meet their obligations.

The President's signature makes legal a bill that virtually puts every bank and building and loan in the nation on the "spot," and yet the administration talks of insurance of deposits. There can be no connection with insurance on deposits and yet legalize a method in which financial institutions cannot force payment on borrowed money.

There are but two methods open now, one is no more loans to anyone for any purpose, and the other is for society to use Gen. Johnson's method of "boycott," a term we admit sounds anything but American. We are evidently approaching the time when we can no longer look to our government to protect civil or property rights. The administration that can and does take away your protection for investment, can and if the notion strikes them will, commandeer your home or your farm. Society can do nothing less than ostracize the citizen that would use the Roosevelt method to cheat his neighbor. Such a citizen has no right to a claim to a seat in a fraternal order, or even a pew in any church that ignores the teaching of the Golden Rule.

THE GOVERNMENT AS A MERCHANDISER

Some months ago, in connection with the Muscle Shoals electric development in the Tennessee Valley, Congress created the Electric Home and Farm Authority, to sell electric ranges, refrigerators and other appliances to residents of that area at very low prices and on extremely liberal terms.

It is now announced that, for the first time in history, the United States government, through this Authority, has employed an advertising agent. The announcement says that the program, which started in the middle of May, is designed to sell an idea—greater use of power by home-owners. Space advertising will not be used, at least at the beginning. The government will operate fixed and traveling show-rooms for appliances, and will attempt to create demand for the appliances through booklets, and through work in schools and libraries, as well as stores. This is a promotional program similar to sales efforts of private utilities which have been objected to by state and federal commissions on the grounds that the cost of extensive advertising and publicity should not come out of rate payers' funds. The question is being asked as to who will stand the cost, the rate payers or general taxpayers who do not even have access to the service?

The government can easily become the greatest retailer in the world, in competition with every private store. If it can sell electric appliances, it could likewise sell shoes and furniture and sealing wax. It could use its vast purchasing power and credit facilities and tax-exemption to literally destroy present-day private merchandising methods—no business can compete with government.

Only time will tell how much the liability accepted by the government in financing electric appliances on long term payment plans, will cost the taxpayer. Looking at the project from the standpoint of sound business, sound economics, sound government or fair dealing toward private business, it isn't particularly encouraging to the average citizen.

WHEN SENATOR BORAH GOES ENTOUR

Senator William E. Borah, Idaho, persistent foe of NRA and AAA, announces that he soon will carry his message to the country in a number of speeches against the alphabetical programs, being fostered by the present administration. The Senator from the first has made a desperate fight against the three A program on the plea that it would not aid agriculture in this country but destroy it and bring financial ruin to every land owner.

The Senator must go to the people with his message for he will have no opportunity of using the radio, as it has been placed directly under control of a government board. The Senator is in position to realize he cannot use the air unless Washington permits. There is a semblance of precedent the Democrats have followed. In the last campaign Hoover and his party had first call on the radio and the Democrats had to take what was left. Now the Democrats have taken over complete control of the radio and the same law gives Roosevelt a whip hand over the other lines of communication, the telephone and the telegraph. Other than sending out postal cards Senator Borah must face his audience personally to get his message across. This is the part of free democracy we did not have one year ago, according to the questionnaire the President asked in a recent address as to where our liberty had been interfered with under the present program.

The whole nation awaits the first Borah speech against the NRA as an instrument to protect monopoly and crush small business, and the AAA as a means of regimenting the farmer for the benefit of union labor and large industries. The nation's spokesman will be on the high seas when Borah speaks first but Gen. Johnson is at the helm. It is said it took Noah Webster eight years to write the dictionary but out of that list of names Johnson needs but two, "Damn and Hell." His next line of defense is his "sword and pistol." At that he cannot outtalk Borah, neither can he use military bluff and get away with it.

WORLD'S BIGGEST GAMBLER

Here's the world's biggest gambler, the American farmer! He gambles with the weather, with the soil, with grasshoppers, with army worms, with grubs, and a score of other offshoots of the plagues of ancient Egypt. Every spring he takes a chance—a desperate chance. If he wins, as he does occasionally, he comes off with a big stake; if he loses, which he does more frequently, he has a chance to try again. Happily, he is a good loser, else the world would starve.

Quite a few children wouldn't be so bad if it weren't for the parents they have to live with. Other children wouldn't be so bad if their parents would stay home long enough to live with them.

Employees who are fired by enthusiasm and a desire to succeed always have a decided advantage over those fired by the boss.

Whether one considers the world round, flat, square or crooked depends on the part he has bumped against.

It is said a stupid person has no patience with the stupidity of others.

A new phrase has been born to every day use so far as the average citizen is concerned but it is not new, it was coined from the Bible. "Examine yourself." You heard it last week in the President's speech to the nation. You might examine yourself by first asking: "Have I succeeded in getting on the government payroll?"

As a farmer: "How can I purchase thirty cent pork chops cut from three and one half cent hogs?" The business man can examine himself and ask: "What percent of my business comes from the natural growth of business and what per cent is coming from the nation's pocketbook which must be supplied by taxes through government spending?" The aged and the widow might examine themselves: "How can I meet this increased cost of living on my meager income that has already been lowered?" The laborer might examine himself: "I was on charity a year ago limited to four days a week, now I am allowed only two days a week."

The veteran and the Civil War pensioner examine themselves and say: "My little pension was cut a year ago and it is still out and facing greatly increased cost of food products." The farmer's examination reads: "I was fed on promises a year ago and now I am asked to be patient in the face of more promises." But examine the steel worker and coal miner: "We have had our wages greatly increased and promises of more or the plants and mines will be commended by Gen. Johnson." Such is the examination of "Yourself Today."

It gets hot below the Mason and Dixon line and there is no heat that brings things to a boil like political agitation. A hosiery company at Harrison, Tenn., had its Blue Eagle taken away and the plant closed down, throwing some 600 or more employees out of work. It was the only industry in the town and the roar that went up reached into the White house. Gen. Johnson had more concern about the Eagle than a livelihood for the employees. The matter was turned over to the Department of Justice but back came the answer there were no grounds for prosecution. The Attorney General probably was trying to follow the constitution. Johnson says he stands by NRA, if the constitution is wrong, change it. A union organizer caused the trouble. Employees did not want a union and one day the union organizer was kidnapped by employees and given an automobile ride out of the town and county and told to stay away. President Green of the American Federation of Labor demands of Tennessee more protection for union organizers. Yes, it's hot below the Mason and Dixon line, that's the reason Johnson dund the issue. Such issues are handed different in the independent and Republican states. Call it Socialism or Communism, Harrison lost a big industry. The same can be said of Xenia, that lost a shoe factory giving employment to six hundred men and women.

Under a previous federal law a congressman or senator could not have financial obligations with the government. Each branch of congress sit back and voted millions and millions to railroads, banks, highways, states, cities and individuals. Everything going out and nothing in. National legislators became excited and feared Uncle Sam's money would all be gone before they would get back next January, so they quietly placed a "Sleeper" in the so-called Housing Act, that President Roosevelt had demanded past before the adjournment. Knowing he would not veto the act the "sleeper" was inserted, legalizing loans in any amount on anything a congressman or senator might want. The bill was signed and is now a law. Congressmen and senators are happy and thumb their noses at the bankers.

Much has been said in the press and among politicians about the straw vote taken by the Literary Digest as to the present standing of the Roosevelt administration. Several million ballots were mailed to citizens over the country. In the past the Digest vote taken on elections and prohibition has been a 100 per cent sure shot as to the outcome. In recent weeks we have asked no less than fifty farmers if they received such a ballot and whether they marked one and sent it in. Strange as it may seem but one admitted signing the ballot and returning it. Various excuses have been given as to why the ballot was ignored. Some protested the Digest's part in prohibition repeal. Others felt it was nothing more than a political move for the administration. The result of the Digest vote thus far gives Roosevelt a 65 per cent standing, which is much lower than it was some weeks ago. If farmers elsewhere did not vote, the Digest returns may not reflect the correct standing, although it is no fault of the magazine promoting the test.

A well known businessman having a mission to New York City returned home by way of Washington, D. C., several days ago. He has frequently been in Washington in recent years and knows something of the routine in governmental affairs. As his company was interested in a certain code and a hearing was being held in one of the government departments, he had first hand information on several subjects. We asked him what seemed uppermost in the mind of Washington and he replied: "The pair of Roosevelt divorcees are on the tongue of everyone." He says it is a hard pill for Southern Democracy to swallow, especially Southern Methodist and Baptists. They cannot understand how a President of the United States can let such a record be made during his term of office.

Certain denominations in the south that take their politics religiously will be interested in reading what Bishop Charles Fiske of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of which the Roosevelt family are members, has to say about two divorcees from the White House. To sum up his statement in brief it reads: "It is a disgrace to the nation." The Catholic Church usually speaks louder than any other denomination on divorce and considering membership is said to have the lowest number of members that have severed marital relations through the courts. In the present scheme of things governmental marriage as an institution must play second fiddle to NRA—the National Rull Association.

Now that President Roosevelt has taken charge of the grain and stock markets, best known as the marginal markets, dealers in grain and especially those who usually purchase large quantities, are slow to bid fearing unfavorable action on the part of the government appointed board to handle markets. For this reason it is not expected that wheat will get much out of the 75 cent range. It is also certain the government will do its best to hold down the price of wheat as the cities now are complaining of the extremely high cost of food products. For instance 30 cent pork chops out of three and one-half cent hogs. Whole hams are now 20 cents a pound. And yet Washington says there is no attempt at regimentation.

There was a time once when this country had a vice president. John Nance Garner, Texas, D., still holds that title but does not get to work much at the job. He is back on his Texas ranch while the Chief Executive enjoys a vacation of several weeks visiting other countries. Ordinarily the vice president assumes the duties of the President in such a case, but as the constitution has been scrapped, the brain-trust university professors, have been left in charge. In addition a special board of twelve professors without the "doctor" degree have been named as a special court to pass on what the other "brain-trusters" order. This special board is known as the "freshmen class." The college janitors will be called upon next for their opinions, and this may get popular approval.

The Fourth of July has come and gone and with it the usual crop of deaths by drowning, fireworks, airplane and motor car accidents. First press reports place the number at 115 in the country. Several thousand accidents took place, some serious and others of a minor nature. Probably no nation on the face of the earth seems as little concerned about the lives of individuals and willing to take a risk as can be found in this country.

POULTRY

MOVABLE BROODER BETTER THAN HEN

Affords Minimum of Labor, Cost, Mortality.

By R. E. Gray, Poultry Specialist, Ohio State University—WNJ Service.

A movable brooder house large enough to house 350 to 400 chicks at a time, small enough to be moved easily, and cheap enough to be within the means of any poultryman, has proved its superiority over the hen for the average farmer as a means of brooding chicks with a minimum of labor, cost, and mortality. Success in raising chicks with the brooder stove depends to a large extent on the kind of house in which it is used. The house described is 12 feet square, is large enough to permit good ventilation, and also to allow the chicks room to get away from the stove and into cooler air.

Success in poultry farming depends on raising strong, vigorous pullets. This can best be accomplished either by moving the chicks to fresh ground where there is an abundance of green feed, or by raising the chicks in strict confinement. The brooder house cannot be moved unless it is portable, but a portable brooder house can be used for confinement brooding. The house described has been designed for a brooder house, but can easily be changed into a laying house to accommodate about 85 birds. Perches and dropping boards are all that need be added to change the house into a laying house.

Sunlight Puts Vitamin D Content in Egg Yolk
 The world has milk from contented cows; some day it may have eggs from irradiated hens.
 That seems possible from an an-nonouncement by the Department of Agriculture that 15 minutes' exposure of a hen to a carbon arc lamp will increase the vitamin D content of her eggs. There are relatively few potent natural sources of vitamin D, and egg yolk is one of the most valuable of these.

The studies of the department indicated the diet of the hen and the amount of sunlight she receives during the laying period make considerable difference in the vitamin content of the egg yolk.

It was determined that the vitamin, which in human food promotes the assimilation of calcium and phosphorus and thus aids the development of bones and teeth, can be increased in the egg by feeding the hen cod liver oil or by exposure to natural or artificial sunlight.

Distinguishing Sex

Experience is the great teacher in distinguishing the sex of young chickens. This is comparatively easy with Leghorns and other nonsetting breeds. At six weeks of age the cockerels of such breeds will begin to show combs and wattles, while the pullets will be backward in head points, but development in tails. In heavy breeds determination is more difficult, but the following method is said to be successful in most cases. Pluck a few feathers that grow from the saddle around the tail. If pointed, a cockerel is denoted, authorities say, but if round at the point, a pullet will be found. It is asserted by many that the best way to tell the sex of young ducklings is by their voices. Young ducks (females) will give loud quacks, but drakes (males) will emit a hoarse croak.—Los Angeles Times.

Cure for Pullorum

Control of pullorum disease, or bacillary white diarrhea, in baby chicks, appears within reach of the average poultryman, as a result of pullorum testing work carried on among Minnesota hatchery flocks for the last three years, according to the University of Minnesota agricultural extension division. Tests, carried on by local veterinarians, under the state live stock sanitary board, detect pullorum-infected hens so that they may be discarded and only eggs from the healthy hens used for hatching.

Poultry Notes

Feed costs amount to from 60 to 70 per cent of the cost of poultry production.

Cockerels should be castrated when they weigh from one and one-half to two and one-half pounds.

Temperance Notes

Sponsored by Cedarville W. C. T. U.

Congressman Fitzpatrick recently said in Congress, "The bootlegger before repeal was a mere piker as compared with the whiskey trust of today."

The Boston Herald, which has been very wet, in publishing the record of nineteen weeks of repeal said that the record was "shameful, drunken and bloody."

David Lloyd George says: "If we are going to found the prosperity of the country, its industrial prosperity, of the country, its industrial prosperity, upon an impregnable basis, we must cleanse the foundation of the rot of alcohol."

By the time the people of the United States have drunk enough beer to put the government on its feet, all the people of the United States, will be off their feet.—National Voice.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer which advocated the repeal of prohibition in a special article on the liquor situation June 4, said: "The saloon, minus the brass rail and the swinging door and the free lunch, has returned to Cleveland under the Ohio liquor control law which was intended to prevent just such a return." The article also said: "The presence of a woman in a saloon before was the cause of ungentlemanly comment. Today perhaps forty per cent of the patrons are women; the average age of the modern saloon's patrons much lower than that of the old saloon's customers."

Great Britain again refuses to pay the amount due on her war debts to the United States June 15. With the millions spent by England for liquor, she should pay these war debts, but since our nation is spending millions now for liquor, perhaps she thinks our government does not need the money.

Dr. Scott McBride of Washington, D. C., says:

"Here in the nation's capital an appalling record of drunken attacks, murders, suicides, crimes and misfortunes of all kinds refutes the claim of the crusaders that repeal would bring 'true temperance.'"

"The cocktail hour, 'ingeniously popularized for profit' by big hotels in large cities, is more perilous and ruinous to young women than the old time bar room treating custom ever was to young men."

Dr. McBride is to make the address on the Sabbath evening of our coming General Assembly.

It is reported that 450 4-H Club members attended the annual tour in a party group last Friday. The first place visited was Wright Field Air Depot. At Eastwood Park luncheon was served. In Dayton a police escort took the party to the Dayton Art Institute.

Mr. Fred L. Thompson and wife, of Olympia, Wash., visited several days last week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thompson. Mr. Thompson is connected with the Dairy Department of Washington State College, a position he has held several years. This is Mr. Thompson's first visit home in five years. They also visited in Iowa and took in the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Rev. and Mrs. Clare McNeel, Clifton, recent groom and bride, will be honored by a reception this Friday evening at the home of the Misses Knott. All members of the Clifton Presbyterian congregation, of which Rev. McNeel is pastor, are invited.

Mrs. Frank C. Lackey, Ross, Twp., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Martha, to Mr. J. Paul Binger, Bowersville, which took place at the United Presbyterian Church in Bloomington, Ind., June 21st.

Mrs. A. S. Lewis is reported seriously ill at her home in Clifton.

Dr. W. A. Pollock and wife, College Springs, Iowa, who visited last week with Miss Lounette Sterrett, left Saturday for Sparta, Ill., where they expected to stop to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Nicol.

Mr. Ralph Murdock reports that his wheat crop, threshed this week, averaged twenty-five bushels per acre. Rather than sell at present prices he has stored the crop.

Mrs. Robert Bird was called to Mt. Carmel, Ill., last Friday, owing to the death of her sister, Mrs. Main. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Confarr, and Mrs. Wm. Bull, Xenia, a sister, and Mrs. Belle Confarr, Clifton, the latter stopping in Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit.

Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Elias had as their guests last Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde White, and son, Neil, of Newark, O., and Miss Carol Reif, of Charleston, W. Va. They were enroute to Fort Worth, Texas, their future home. Mr. White is chief engineer for the Pure Oil Co. in Texas and Oklahoma.

"WINDSWEEP" PRINT

By CHERRIE NICHOLAS

The vogue for "windswept" effects is reflected in the newest prints. The pajamas shown here are made of a windswept print in chulla crepe construction. This lovely print has every thing to recommend it. First of all its colors will not fade or run in washing and it is of such a sturdy weave there is no wear out to it. The generous cut of this attractive pajama costume gives the effect of the sweeping lines of a full skirt. Elbow length puff sleeves and a bodice closed with details. Pajamas of this type are comfortable for lounging and are adored by school girls for wear around the dormitory for fudge parties or for study hours—but pajamas are not being worn outside the home by smart women.

2. A tomato aspic ring filled with chicken salad, Lattice potatoes, Toasted cheese bread.
3. A salad of Cottage Cheese and nuts, Shoe string Potatoes, Toasted Ham Rolls.

Tomato Aspic

2 T gelatin
1-4 c cold water
1-2 cup boiling water
4 cups tomatoes, fresh or canned
1 T chopped Onion
2 t lemon juice
1-2 t celery seed
2 or 3 whole cloves.
1 t salt
1 t granulated sugar.
Soak the gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Cook the tomatoes, onions, celery seed, cloves, salt and sugar for fifteen minutes. Strain through fine strainer or cheesecloth; add lemon juice and dissolved gelatin. Pour into a ring mold.

Ham Roll

Slice bread very thin. Lay bread on a cloth which has been wrung out of very hot water. Spread each slice of bread with a minced ham sandwich mixture. Roll the bread on a secure with toothpicks. Put on your broiler pan and toast turning roll so that it will be toasted on all sides. The damp cloth will make the bread roll without splitting. If you cut the bread too thick, it will split.

Pineapple

Pineapple can be used in the making of many delightful dishes. Have you tried combining pineapple with sweet potatoes? Place layer of diced cooked sweet potatoes in the bottom of a baking dish. Next, a layer of drained crushed pineapple. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Repeat until the baking dish is filled. Pour over this the pineapple juice and cook in the oven until it is all very tender.

Try combining it with ham as in Ham Hawaiian. Use a slice of ham one-half inch thick. Sprinkle the ham with ground cloves, mustard and brown sugar. Cover the ham with slices of pineapple. Sweet potatoes pared and cut lengthwise and dipped in melted fat may be placed around the ham. Cover with pineapple juice and bake.

Pineapple Butterscotch Cake topped with whipped cream and served warm makes a delicious dessert. Use a heavy skillet. Place in the bottom of the skillet 2 cups of brown sugar and a half cup of butter cut in small pieces. Arrange whole slices of pineapple on top of the sugar. Fill the center of the pineapple with marischino cherries. Pour over this a batter of the following.

Beat 3 eggs until light
1 cup granulated sugar
3 tablespoons hot water
Sift together and fold in 1 cup of flour
2 teaspoons of baking powder
Bake at 350 for 45 minutes.

ASA RELIES ON GOD

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 14:1-15:15.
GOLDEN TEXT—But to do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. Hebrews 13:16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Why King Asa Was Called Good.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Wise-Hearted King Asa.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Standing for the Right.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Courage of Conviction.

I. Asa's Reformation (vv. 1-5).
Asa was the grandson of Rehoboam. Both his grandfather and father favored idolatry, but when he came to the throne he inaugurated a campaign of reform which brought great good. He not only had the handicap of idolatry and immorality fostered by two former kings, but had to contend against the influence of his mother who encouraged immoral worship (I Kings 15:13). In order to carry out his reformatory measures he had to depose her. Asa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the Lord (v. 2).

1. Cleared the land of idolatrous emblems and images (vv. 3, 5), including (a) strange altars devoted to other gods; (b) high places where unlawful sacrifices were offered; (c) the upright stones or images connected with idolatrous worship; (d) the groves which were associated with gross licentiousness.

2. Commanded Judah to seek the Lord (v. 4). He knew that if the reformation was to be effective it must be by the positive seeking after and worshiping God, accompanied by obedience to his commandments.

II. Asa's Defensive Preparations (14:6-8).

1. Built fortified cities (v. 6). He provided a general system of defense involving the cities at strategic points. He took advantage of the years of peace at the beginning of his reign to make fortifications.

2. He erected walls about the cities (v. 7). Upon these stone walls were observation towers from which the position and movements of the enemy could be seen, and from which defensive warfare could be waged.

3. Made gates and barred them (v. 7). The reason he assigned for these preparations was that they had sought the Lord. Those who really trust God will make every effort to provide defense.

4. Had an army of spearmen (v. 8). The army was made up of 480,000 brave men. The spearmen were protected with large shields and were prepared for offensive as well as defensive war.

III. Asa's Victory Over Zerah (14:9-12).
Asa's activity in providing for the national defense excited surrounding kings who interpreted his preparation as an act of aggression.

1. Asa set the battle in array (v. 10). He went out to meet the enemy. The disposition of his army shows his wisdom. Intelligent faith moves the possessor to do first that which is within his power.

2. Asa's prayer (vv. 11, 12). He cried unto the Lord, the source of national power. In this prayer note:

a. His conscious helplessness, the first requisite in obtaining help from God.
b. Appeals to God for help, knowing that with God's help they could win the victory.

c. Reposes faith in God. The word "rest" means to lean upon—to cast the entire weight upon.
d. Advanced courageously. Real faith does not wait until it sees its way clear but goes forth expecting God to clear the way.

e. He trusted himself upon God. "O Lord, thou art our God." His cause was God's cause. If God has taken us for his people, and we have taken him for our God, no enemy can prevail against us.

3. The Egyptians smitten (v. 12). The enemy fled before Israel and could not recover themselves. Asa pursued them and overtook them.

IV. Azariah's Message to Asa (15:1-7).
1. The Lord is with thee (vv. 1-6). He made it clear that the Lord is with those who seek him, and those who forsake God shall be forsaken by him.

2. Be strong (v. 7). The one who is in right relationship with God and goes forth as his representative, is strong in God.

V. Asa Entering into a Covenant With God (15:8-15).
Entering into this covenant relationship meant separation from all idolatry and wickedness. Success is only possible as we seek the Lord with our whole heart.

Time for Prayer
Stop in the midst of the bustle and hurry and temptation of the day for thanksgiving and prayer; a few minutes spent alone with God at midday will go far to keep you calm in the midst of the worries and anxieties of modern life.—R. A. Torrey.

Encouragement
We have reason to be encouraged as long as we have the Spirit of God remaining among us, to work upon us, for so long as we have God with us to work for us.—M. Henry.

Ford Prices Again Reduced

Another Contribution to Ford Economy

Where Can You Find Such Economy as in the Ford V8

DEPRECIATION IS CONSIDERED THE GREATEST COST IN AN AUTOMOBILE. The first cost of a new Ford V8 is $55.00 to $90.00 less than other six cylinder cars of similar wheelbase and horse power rating. Over a period of months the 1933 Ford V8 has sold fully as high as these other 1933 cars. That means a saving of $55.00 to $90.00 in first year depreciation. Think of the gas that will buy.

Just think, if you own a 1933 Ford V8 tudor, for only $151.00, you can buy a brand new 1934 Ford V8. No tires to buy, no repair costs. Five new tires and tubes cost $69.50, leaving only $81.50 actual car depreciation in a year.

NEXT, YOUR OPERATING COST IS EXCEPTIONALLY LOW IN A 1934 FORD V8. Ford parts and labor charges are still lower than in any other car.

Gas and Oil Cost is Very Low, Verified By Nearly A Million Ford V8 Owners

THE FORD V8, OVER THOUSANDS OF MILES OF SERVICE, REQUIRES VERY LITTLE MECHANICAL ATTENTION, due to manufacturing methods very expensive in their nature and employed in no other low priced car.

STEEL VALVE INSERTS WITH MUSHROOM END VALVES, found in no other car, practically eliminates valve grinding in the Ford V8.

THREE QUARTER FLOATING REAR AXLE, found in no other car under $1345.00, takes the weight off the rear axle and prevents axle breakage.

STRADDLE MOUNTED PINION AND TORQUE TUBE DRIVE, found in no other car under $1100.00, eliminates rear end noise and makes replacement need a rarity, even over years of service.

Transverse Springs, the Simplest Form of Free Wheel Action

The only type that is effective on all four wheels, eliminates the hazard of mis-alignment of front wheels and gives the car a road freedom and ease of control found in no other car.

In the Ford V8 You Find the Rare Combination of Satisfying Per- formance with Utmost Economy

If you are going to buy a new car you undoubtedly have a friend who owns a 1934 Ford V8. Ask him about his car. We are glad to rest our case with the owner.

We gladly loan our demonstrators that you may make your own tests as to performance and economy.

THERE IS NO SAFER INVESTMENT IN ANY AUTOMOBILE THAN IN A FORD V8, THE LOWEST IN DEPRECIATION AND LOWEST IN OPERATING COSTS.
